Unfinished Business

- Gary Carreiro reported on the recently completed field improvements. A canopy, from South Coast Shelters, has been installed over the picnic table. The wind sock has been moved to the taxi way and cemented in. Gerry Dupont has installed a symbolic monkey on the top of the pole. A fire extinguisher and first aid kit have been mounted under the picnic table. Two new benches are still required and a new shelter for the tractor should be considered for next year. Gary indicated that next year the field will be marked off before corn planting in order to keep the area to the north of the runway clear.
- We have been invited back to the UMASS Fall Family Fun Day to be held in October. We will likely showcase FPV drone racing. A $350 fee will be charged to the university and free food will be provided to our participants.
- Our participation in the YMCA Fall Family Festival is still to be determined.
- Upcoming ground school topics for the fall include transmitter programming and LIPO safety.
- War Bird Day has been moved from September 10th to October 1st due to the proximity of the tall corn to the north end of the runway.
- The Nicolaci Float Fly is still scheduled for September 24th.
